

we went to Lake Purdy.
it was really dry, there were two men that showed us how to look for arrow heads. They were looking for pottery and I found one for them. They told us they put parts of a horse shoe in a rock so we each got a piece of it.

Lake Purdy during drought

The water was seeping up Through The cracks

these are
The two men
That helped us find arrowheads

Birmingham is in a stage four drought so its really dry

We pretended
The rocks
were dinosaur bones
