

We hosted a small party with James Spann at church. He told us about a day there were 62 Tornadoes!!!! 252 people died. Spann said he was going to memorize all their names before he died.

He also told us his dad abandoned him when he was little, and when he was 30 he went to find his dad, and he found him, but he was drunk and didn't have many brain cells functioning so it was hard for Spann to get him to hear. His dad died a year later though.

At the party a lot of people came and we had snacks and history stuff.
